

Freak Electrical Storm Hits Buchanan Valley; Four Buildings Damaged

A freak electrical storm which centered within a mile and a half radius in Buchanan valley near St. Ignatius church Wednesday night caused several hundred dollars damage to four buildings, setting fire to one, and put power and telephone lines out of commission.

There were only two lightning bolts, as the storm swept through the valley, accompanied by a brief, but torrential downpour of rain, but in the few minutes between 10:15 and 10:30 p. m. that the storm lasted, these places were damaged:

The home of Paul McKendrick, near St. Ignatius church; the home of Eugene Kimpke, close to the McKendrick home; a machine shop operated by Frank Dillon; and the home of George Irvin. Two large trees on the Wilfred Keiser place were also struck.

The Arendtsville fire company was called to the McKendrick home. Firemen said the lightning followed the telephone and electric lines into the house, burned out wiring and electrical appliances and set fire to the building. The fire was extinguished, however, before the arrival of the firemen, who estimated damage at $500.

A pole of the Adams Electric Co-operative was struck near the Dillon place, officials of the company said, and the lightning bolt spread itself out over a field, burning the pole and damaging a fence. Rocks were split in the field, it was reported. The lightning followed service wires into the building, where considerable damage resulted.

At the Kimpke house, fuse boxes were burned out and the telephone damaged, and at the Irvin place the lightning went in through the wires and burned out switches and wiring.

Most of the damage to power and telephone lines had been repaired and service restored this afternoon, company officials said. Two of the Biglerville telephone lines were out of order for several hours and a line of the REA and another of the Metropolitan Edison company were damaged.

There was no damage reported from other parts of the county. A heavy fog hung over many sections during the early part of the evening.

CONSERVATION AREA APPROVED

Adams county was designated officially as a soil conservation area of the state in a resolution adopted by the county commissioners at their regular meeting at the court house Wednesday.

The action followed the appearance before the commissioners Wednesday of several representatives of farm and fruit grower organizations in the county, who requested that the county be so designated.

"It obligates the county to nothing, except to set up a soil conservation area, which cannot be set up without the approval of the commissioners," Clarence C. Smith, chief clerk, said.

Among those who appeared before the commissioners were John Peters, Aspers, and Harvey Raffensperger, Arendtsville.

The farm organizations will select a list of eight, from which the county commissioners will name a board of four directors and a member of the county commission, Mr. Smith said.

Creation of a soil conservation area in the county follows provisions of the state soil conservation law of 1945.

Arendtsville To Talk Merger Of Schools With Biglerville Directors

The Arendtsville school board members will contact members of the Biglerville school board in the near future to investigate the possibility of a merger of the high schools for next year as a result of a mass meeting of approximately 175 residents of Arendtsville and community in the school auditorium Wednesday evening.

Discussion of the school situation in Arendtsville was brought about by the special meeting which was called by the Arendtsville board.

Donald Ernst, principal of Arendtsville high school, explained Act 403 of the state school code which changes the method of determining the approximate number of teachers employed and teacher units. Under the act a teacher is required in high school for approximately every 22 students while in the grade schools one teacher is needed for every 30 pupils.

Cut In State Funds

At present there are fewer pupils per teacher at Arendtsville than required under the act. This requires

POLICE BLAME SPEEDERS FOR MOST MISHAPS

Drivers operating too fast for conditions caused 10 of the 13 automobile accidents on Adams county highways, Sgt. W. Kurt Duhrkoff, head of the local sub-station, said today in releasing the recapitulation of the past month's activities of the local state police.

Far too many drivers are of the opinion that the 50-mile-per-hour speed limit means that it is safe at all times to drive at that rate, Duhrkoff pointed out. "Sometimes the driver can travel at only 15 or 20 miles an hour if he is not to constitute an additional hazard on the highways," the sergeant added. "Ten of the accidents were caused during March because people did not slow down to a point where diving was safe."

One Fatality

One person was killed and ten hurt, damage totaled $9,900 during March.

The number compared with 10 accidents and $2,570 damage in February and 17 accidents and $3,395 in March a year ago.

"Persons who fail to slow when highways are wet, when approaching curves and when entering an area of congested traffic cause most accidents and are among the great hazards on the highways," Sergeant Duhrkoff added.

Only one of the 13 accidents last month was due to defective equipment. One was due to a drunken driver.

Krug Closes 518 Coal Mines; 'Safety Reasons'

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Krug today ordered the indefinite closing of 518 coal mines for safety reasons and John L. Lewis commented:

"May God in heaven forgive him for not closing them before 111 miners died at Centralia, Ill.," Krug announced that 2,013 other mines in government possession will be permitted to reopen next Monday at end of the miners' six-day mourning period for the Centralia victims, provided the pits are certified as safe.

Motorists Urged To Tune Up Cars

Motorists were advised today by the Gettysburg Motor club of Adams county to give their cars a thorough spring tune-up in order to keep them in good operating condition.

"With new car production far short of providing an adequate number of replacements," the club said "it behooves each motorist to take the best care of his present automobile. The motorist should really go a step further than the spring tune-up.

"Protect the body against rust and weather, clean the floor mats and upholstery. Damage to various parts of the car may be avoided by a thorough cleaning of the chassis parts, removing mud and caked grease from the underparts.

"At the same time clean out the luggage and glove compartments. Old newspapers, oily rags and obsolete and soiled maps provide good places for fires and should be eliminated."

DR. MOUNTAIN TELLS DOCTORS OF GLAUCOMA

Dr. Walter S. Mountain presented a paper on glaucoma, a disease of the eye, at the regular monthly meeting of the Adams county medical society in the nurses' home Wednesday evening. The paper was part of a state-wide program being conducted by medical societies to secure earlier recognition and treatment of glaucoma which seriously impairs vision and often causes blindness in older people.

The disease is caused by increased pressure within the eyeball, Doctor Mountain told the group. The pressure causes degeneration of the nerve of sight with resultant blindness.

Symptoms which should cause a person to seek medical advice are feeling of pain within the eyeball and usually some decrease in the acuteness of vision as though obscured by fog, he added.

Elect New Member

Early use of medical or surgical treatment as indicated can often save an eye which otherwise would be permanently blinded, Doctor Mountain said. The occurrence of glaucoma in this locality is "fortunately not high," he added.

Dr. Harrison F. Harbach who recently opened his office in Gettysburg, was elected a member of the Society.

Doctor Harbach, a native of Gettysburg, graduated from Temple University of Medicine in 1943 and interned at Germantown hospital. He served with the Army medical corps in the European theater of operations from January 1944 to April 1946.

Lt. Colonel Leroy V. Greene, of Harrisburg, will give the second instruction on the Philippines campaign at the college on May 7. Refreshments will be served after the session.

Colonel William G. Weaver is president of the local chapter. Lt. Col. J. Melchior Sheads was elected first vice president. Edward Novicki is supervisor of training for Adams county. Twenty-one members of the chapter attended Wednesday's session.

Confessed Murderers Held In Solitary Confinement In County Jail; Hearing Tuesday

Robert L. Staley and Ray Herman Simmons today sat in solitude in separate cells at the Adams county jail while state police and District Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., continued to probe loose ends of information in the murder of Herbert L. Humpert, 70-year-old Tyrone township farmer, to whose brutal murder the two Mechanicsburg men confessed Tuesday.

Wednesday afternoon a state policeman had gone to their cells to read to them the official charge that had been laid against them by Cpl. L. D. Jenkins of the state police before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore.

The jail was quiet as the officer read that each of the two young men "did feloniously, willfully, each of his malice aforethought, kill and murder Herbert Humpert."

Report Staley Had $1,300

In their confessions the two 23-year-old men had told District Attorney Yake, Corporal Jenkins, Officer James Walsh and Detective R. O. Parsons that they had secured but $129 as a result of their burglary of the Humpert home and the brutal hammer beating of the elderly bachelor.

Yet today a well informed source which refused to be publicly identified said that state police are investigating a report that Staley gave a girl in Mechanicsburg $1,300 on the day after the murder.

After being informed of the charges the two were held without bail pending a hearing Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock before the justice.

Yake Lauds Police

District Attorney Yake today paid tribute to Officers Parsons, Jenkins and Walsh for the "great skill and ability they displayed in solving this case." He also paid tribute to Dr. C. G. Crist, county coroner, and Dr. C. Harold Johnson for their medical skill in determining the approximate time of death.

The doctors, following a postmortem last Thursday morning, three days after the death occurred, set Monday, March 24, at 8 o'clock as the approximate time of death. Actually Humpert's death now is believed to have occurred about 11 o'clock Monday night, only three hours later than the two doctors had determined by the condition of the body.

Both of the young men spent a peaceful night at the jail, Deputy Sheriff Blaine E. Bixler said today.

Set New Inquest Date

An inquest into the case is to be held Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the court house, Coroner Crist said today. The same jury was scheduled to sit previously for the inquest will be present Monday. Previously scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, the coroner's hearing was postponed because of the rapidly developing situation at that time.

The murder weapon will be one of the exhibits to be shown the jury during the expected trial. The hammer was found in the Conewago creek at Twin Bridges where it was thrown by the murderers. District Attorney Yake and police found the weapon when they were retracing the incidents leading up to and following the murder with Staley.

Staley and Simmons are charged with having gone to the Humpert home near Peach Glen to rob the man. Simmons is said to have beaten Humpert over the head with the hammer and then to have gone in the house with Staley. They searched the place finally finding some money.

The Warner hospital has agreed to comply with the new schedule of pay rates and working conditions for private duty nurses set up by the Pennsylvania State Nurses' Association, private duty section. Walter F. Doud, newly elected administrator of the hospital announced today.

The new rates for private duty nurses were adopted by the state association "because of the loss of many nurses to other states paying higher rates and providing better conditions," the nurses' association said.

The minimum fee for a consecutive eight hour schedule is $8 per day, the association states. For less than four hours when hired for a full day the rate will be $4.

For each additional hour over the eight hour period in any one day the minimum rate will be $1 per hour.

Carlisle, Pa., April 3 (AP)—Four children were burned to death early today in a fire which swept through their frame cottage home at nearby Meadowbrook.

Three other children were rescued from the burning home.

The mother, Mrs. Norman Miller, was badly burned in frantic efforts to rescue the children from a second-story bedroom.

The victims of the fire were Norman Miller, Jr., 10; Aubrey, 5; Gary, 4, and Vincent, 3.

Mrs. Miller dropped a baby, Eldora, 18 months old, from a second story window into her husband's arms. Another son, Donald, 8, leaped to safety from the cottage roof. The seventh child, Eva, 11, escaped with slight burns.

The mother and two children, Eldora and Donald, were taken to the Carlisle hospital suffering from burns.

The blaze, which the family reported to firemen originated from an exploding oil stove, swept rapidly through the cottage, cutting off the stairway leading to the second floor bedroom where the seven children slept.

The fire leaped a 15-foot gap to an adjoining cottage from which Mr. and Mrs. John Trimmer and a teenage daughter fled to safety.

GIRL, 17, IS CALLED ADULT

Santa Ana, Calif., April 3 (AP)—

By their own assertion still very much in love, 17-year-old Beulah Louise Overell and her fiancé, George Gollum, 21, will face superior court action together on charges of murdering her wealthy parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Overell.

Superior Judge Franklin G. West, sitting in juvenile court, ruled yesterday that the blonde heiress was not to be considered a juvenile in the bizarre yacht slaying case, although she won't be 18 until April 30.

So, tomorrow morning, she and Gollum, 220-pound ex-Navy radio-man, will be arraigned in Judge West's superior courtroom, both as adults.

However, by California law, conviction for Miss Overell would bring a maximum penalty of life imprisonment. She could not be sentenced to death as she was under 18 at the time her parents met death aboard ship, sunk by dynamite charge in Newport harbor March 15.

POPULAR GIFT

Peiping, (AP)—The U. S. branch of the defunct true headquarters donated $199,000 worth of surplus post exchange supplies today to nine charitable organizations, which was okay as far as it went. Included in the supplies were 24,000 cases of beer. When word of this got around, numerous Chinese and foreign organizations which got no supplies, protested.

Perhaps some of them will be in on the beer. The Salvation Army declined to accept that part of its windfall.

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—A 26-year-old mother was slain apparently with a screw driver at the front doorstep of her North Philadelphia home early today.

A neighbor, Edward G. Gundaker, was looking out of a window of his apartment across the street and said he saw a man hack Mrs. Clara Matthews about the face and head and drag her into an alley.

KUMMER BALKS AT FULKS TITLE

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—The game of Joe Fulks, the basketball star from Kuttawa, Ky., will go down in the record books as a record of the professional basketball scoring record but Bill Kummer isn't willing to concede that the 24-year-old Philadelphia Warrior's ace is the new champ.

Kummer, Internal Revenue Department employee from Butler, Pa., saw the lanky Kentuckian count 17 points last night for a grand total of 746 points, two more than he himself made in 1911-12 while playing with the Connellsville, Pa., club in the old central league.

Fulks' scoring spree paced the Warriors to a 73-68 victory over the St. Louis Bombers in a Basketball Association of America playoff game.

"Remember I set my record in 62 regular season games," said Kummer as he appraised the newcomer. "Joe is a great artist but he didn't top my record during regular season play. The playoffs were like the world series, records of which are separated from those of regular season play."

"Then too, we played only 40 minutes. These boys have been going 48 minutes a game all season—with much more emphasis on scoring than when we played most of our games in cages."

LEW AMBERS TO TRY COMEBACK

By SID FEDER

New York, April 3 (AP)—Laughing Lew Ambers, the bundle of jumping jive who once was king of all the lightweights, has decided he just isn't cut out to be a champion, just so he's coming back to the fight game.

Now, an old gaffer like laughing Lew knows very well that those young fellows are strictly nothing to fool around with, although the lightweight division being what it is, the chances are Lew would be in no immediate danger of life or limb for having his hair mussed.

He is returning as a teacher of the gentle art of beating another guy's ear off. And the fellow who's bringing him back, naturally, is Astute Alphonse Weill, who is regarded among the bash boulevardiers as one of the best fight managers in the business.

Astute Alphonse has been more or less out of action these past few months, ever since he retired Marty Servo from the welterweight championship because of a pained proboscis—an aching nose, that is.

But there's Hank Cisco, a welterweight from Norristown, Pa. Hank's brother, Tony, was a fair kind of clout a few years ago and when Hank got ready, Tony told him to go to Al. Rudy Pasquale, a Toronto

Bears And Hornets In Second Playoff

Hershey, Pa., April 3 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Hornets will be fighting to even up a one-game deficit when they meet the Hershey Bears here tonight in the second game of the playoff series for the American-Hockey league championship.

The Bears shut out the Hornets 4-0 here Tuesday night in the opening game of the best four-out-of-seven title series.

Getting off to a fast start, the Bears tallied three goals in the first period and banged another into the nets in the final period, in the face of a furious last-minute Hornet offensive drive.

The victory gave the Bears the brilliant record of three shutouts in five elimination games.

A $24,000 purse will be divided among the two teams at the conclusion of the playoffs, the winners taking $14,000 and the losers $10,000.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

New York, April 3 (AP)—The other day a mid-western sports scribe commented that Phog Allen was fully ten days overdue with his annual blast against gambling in college basketball. . . . maybe that's because the Kansas U. coach, during the course of an idle winter, has had time to think on a broader scale. . . . recent communiques from Phog have blasted not only gambling, "with which we in the colleges are yoked," but lax officials, bullying coaches who help incite crowds to disorder (particularly in basketball), powerless conference heads, selfish faculty representatives, the "Asinine N.C.A.A.," and college presidents who aren't doing anything about the situation. . . . Dr. Allen's cure-all is the appointment of a "czar" for college athletics who would spend some years studying conditions as they exist and who then would formulate the necessary rules and enforce them. . . . and maybe he has his own answer: "the faculty representatives do not want this czar because they do not want to surrender the power they now possess — exactly the reason why baseball Moguls did not want another man of the Landis type."

SOMETHING LAKEN.

Jack Laken, the Cleveland boxing manager, checks in with news of his new middleweight from Brazil who goes by the intriguing name of "No. 84." . . . Where he got it isn't explained, but unless the fighter is as good as Laken claims he'll provide material for plenty of gags—for instance, No. 84 looked like the wreck of old 97.

END OF THE LINE

George Christie, the Manchester, N. H., sportscaster, proposes that "Babe Ruth Day" be made an annual event with each club contributing 25 per cent of the gate to build and support an annex to boys' town in Nebraska. . . . Georgia's Grief over the loss of Charley Trippi in baseball is being soothed by outfielder Rodney Colson, who never played ball before last season. He can sock them a mile. . . . Rocky Graziano is building a gymnasium in the cellar of his new house in Brooklyn. . . . maybe that's the only place in New York where he'll be allowed to fight.

Ben Hogan Favorite In Augusta Tourney

Augusta, Ga., April 3 (AP)—Soggy fairways greeted a field of 57 of golf's most talented today as the 11th annual masters tournament began with a half dozen players sharing the role of favorite.

Heavy rains of the past few days prevented cutting of the fertile, rolling, 6,800-yard national course and left casual water in many spots. A bridge on the 12th hole was still under water yesterday.

Established in the favorite's niche were Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., the runnerup last year and in 1942; Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., the year's leading money winner; Bobby Locke, the South African champion; Lew Worsham of Washington, D. C., a youngster listed eighth in total featherweight, and Bobby Baldwin, an Englewood, N. J., middle, were shipped in by a couple of Al's former fighters.

Training Camp Briefs

Phoenix, Ariz., April 3 (AP)—Manager Mel Ott was going around with a big smile today and no one was begrudging the little Giant manager one of the few happy moments he has had in a long time.

Pitching is the Giants' big "if" but you wouldn't guess it by the way the New Yorkers' mound corps has been behaving in the last few days.

Yesterday Big Bill Voiselle came through with his second nifty hurling chore in a row when he went the full distance against the Chicago Cubs. The husky, South Carolina righthander who hung up a 21-16 record in his '44 rookie year and has been a flop since, allowed eight hits and was hit hard only in the seventh when the lone Chicago run crossed the plate. That tally broke a 19 inning scoreless streak put together by the pepped up flinging force.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals wind up spring training today and hit the trail for home via Houston, Dallas and Kansas City. The Redbirds' final exhibition here, against the Yankees, was rained out yesterday.

Mobile, Ala., April 3 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, beaten 3-1 by the Boston Braves at Valdosta, Ga., yesterday, meet the Boston National leaguers here today in the rubber affair of their five-game exhibition series. It was Detroit's last meeting with a major league club before the Bengals open their American league season April 15 at St. Louis. Dizzy Trout or Al Benton probably will oppose the Braves' southpaw, Warren Spahn.

Little Rock, Ark., April 3 (AP)—Bob Klinger may get a chance to try out his arm for the Boston Red Sox today when the American league champions hook up with the Little Rock Southern Association club in an exhibition here. "Sinker Ball" Bob has had the miseries in his elbow. He and Harry Dorish were listed as manager Joe Cronin's probable pitching choices for today's game.

Sport Shorts

New York, April 3 (AP)—The Basketball Association of America playoffs started off in upset fashion last night with the Chicago Stags' 81-65 triumph over the Washington Capitols the biggest surprise of the three opening-round contests.

The Stags handed the Caps the worst defeat the Eastern Division pennant-winners received all season and it was only the second loss in 31 starts by Washington on its home court. In their final meeting of the regulation season last week the Caps humbled the Stags 105-77 on the same court.

At Cleveland, the Rebels came up with their best game of the year to wallop the New York Knickerbockers 77-51 in the inaugural of the best-of-three third-place playoff. The Philadelphia Warriors, with Joe Fuls in a new unofficial pro scoring record of 1,406 points, turned back the St. Louis Bombers 73-68 as the best-of-three set of the second-place finishers got under way in the Quaker city.

New York, April 3 (AP)—Negotiations for the filming of Babe Ruth's life story are under way, representatives of the former home run king and Republic pictures have announced.

Mrs. Ruth said that her husband and Republic executives conferred yesterday "at great length" but added she doubted that the Babe would portray himself in the movie. She said he might appear in an epilogue, however.

Ruth, now convalescing from a neck operation performed last January 6, once starred in a silent movie during the height of his playing career, and also played himself in the more recent "The Pride of the Yankees," based on the life of his former teammate, Lou Gehrig.

St. Petersburg, April 3 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, slugging Yankee center fielder, will remain here when the New York club moves north tomorrow, in order to give his ailing foot more time to heal.

DiMaggio, who reported for spring training less than a week ago, after an operation on his heel, and since then has been unable to engage in active training, will remain at least until April 8, Manager Bucky Harris said.

PIAA To Qualify Vets As Officials

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Edmund Wicht, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association announced today special examinations for former GIs who want to qualify as basketball and football officials.

Wicht said the special examinations were arranged after many former servicemen wrote explaining they were unable to take the tests on regular dates assigned by the PIAA.

Following the receipt of the letters the PIAA Board of Control unanimously adopted a resolution calling for the examinations, at the same time granting permission for those who failed in the 1946 tests to re-take the exams.

The basketball examinations will be held at the twelve PIAA district centers on April 17, and the football tests will be given on May 1 at the same centers.

Wicht announced a list of examination centers including Steelton for District Three.

PRESIDENT AND EARLE TRADE VIEWS ON REDS

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—President Truman is reported to have written George H. Earle, 3d, that a Communist threat is "bugaboo," but the former Pennsylvania governor said the president's attitude "astonishes me."

Earle disclosed that Mr. Truman had written him February 28 saying that the United States "is perfectly safe as far as Communism is concerned."

"The thing about the President's letter of great concern and worry to me is its inconsistency," Earle told reporters, adding:

Earle Replies

"At this most critical time in our nation's history, when he himself has just ordered Communists purged from the government and started the Greek and Turkish aid programs, that he should write such a letter astonishes me."

The White House confirmed that Mr. Truman had written Earle but declined to disclose contents of the letter.

Earle, a socially prominent Pennsylvania democrat who was a minister to Bulgaria during the war, said he replied to the President that if Congress adopted a similar attitude, "the future of our country is without hope."

President's Letter

He said last night that the President's letter ran as follows:

"Dear Governor:

"I appreciate very much your note of February 26 and I am very happy to be informed of your decision with regard to the American anti-communist association.

"People are very wrought up about the communist bugaboo, but I am of the opinion that the country is perfectly safe so far as Communism is concerned—we have too many sane people. Our government is made for the welfare of the people, and I don't believe there will come a time when anyone will really want to overturn it."

"Mr. Truman" Had Written President

Earle said the President's letter was in response to a note the former governor wrote the White House in which Earle said he informed the President he had decided to resign as president of the American Anti-Communist association.

Outlining his reason for resigning, Earle explained other officers and directors of the association wanted him to announce opposition of David E. Lilienthal as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

"That I refused to do," said Earle, "on the grounds that I knew only good of Lilienthal."

W. And J. Will Drop Engineering Courses

Washington, Pa., April 3 (AP)—Washington and Jefferson college has decided to abandon its engineering courses and confine its curriculum to liberal arts and sciences.

The 140 engineering students in the 1,200 student body will transfer to other colleges. The college trustees said the engineering courses—began five years ago as an emergency wartime measure—were costly and impractical.

SECRET ACCORD ENDS BEER WAR

Pittsburgh, April 3 (AP)—Western Pennsylvania's six-month jurisdictional "beer war" ended in an agreement on undisclosed terms late yesterday.

The disputing parties—the AFL-Teamsters union, the CIO-Brewery workers and officials of three Pittsburgh breweries—signed an agreement in Judge William H. McNaughton's court, terminating a hearing on an injunction which would have barred further AFL picketing and boycotting of the breweries.

The document said that the parties announced a "satisfactory settlement of their difficulties" with the aid and assistance of Judge McNaughton and that "all picketing and boycotting has been called off."

It added that "the agreement arrived at is in the interest of harmony in labor relations and the public good."

No clue was given whether the AFL or the CIO gets the 203 bottlers whose bargaining rights had been the bone of contention.

Yesterday's action presumably will cancel a strike against beer distributors scheduled for April 10. The Teamsters filed strike notice March 10.

Officials to succeed themselves for one term.

Also favorably reported by House committees were measures to permit second class townships to levy a special real estate tax to provide police protection; authorize boroughs to increase the real estate millage from 15 to 20; and give war veteran amputees free fishing licenses.

Seek Compromise On Portal Problem

Washington, April 3 (AP)—House and Senate conferees, confronted by what one member described as "substantial differences" in anti-portal pay legislation, today tackled the task of reaching a compromise.

Once that is accomplished it remains to be seen whether President Truman will sign or veto the bill. There have been predictions of a veto.

The No. 1 aim of the bills passed by both Houses is to erase liability for $6,000,000,000 in back pay claims against industry. These resulted from a Supreme Court ruling that wages could be sought for non-productive activities controlled by the employer, such as portal-to-portal walking time.

The conference committees organized yesterday, naming Senator Donnell (R-Mo.), as chairman. Members said "there appears to be every disposition to get down to business."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

For the Pleasure of Another
We do a great many things for the pure pleasure of the thing itself. Why not for the pure pleasure of another—especially when we would far rather give pleasure to ourselves? How often we miss this subtle cue!

Mothers are old hands at giving pleasure to their children in preference to themselves. It is surprising how soon we realize that this procedure, tried out a few times, actually returns the pleasure that we thought we were giving away!

Little surprises, scattered here and there, are like lights along an otherwise dark highway. So, you see, anyone of us can become a lamplighter at will! I recall visiting a friend who was the President of a great cotton mill, employing several thousand workers. He took me there to show me around. He said that he wanted me to meet many of the people, remarking that he knew it might be a bore to me, but that it would mean much to them. That put a new light on the visit, for I felt that if I could give pleasure to them, I surely would be the gainer. And I was. Many a one is building far into the future, not for his own pleasure and profit, but for the pleasure and profit of someone else. The "City Fathers" build parks, establish playgrounds, and beautify their city, not for their personal profit, but for the pleasure and happiness of others. Our legislators should make laws more along this line.

How many more people in this world would know the joy of life if they would but take the time to give pleasure to another, instead of housing themselves alone, seeking happiness that is impossible alone. Run into such people and you know instantly why they are dissatisfied, nerves unstrung, and so much like a boat adrift in a rough sea.

To do something for the pleasure of another is to bank happiness, on which to draw some day when the day gets dark, and you need a spiritual uplift. You can then draw upon that bank!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Bridge of Understanding"

THE WAY OF ANIMALS

Some counsel: "Grab it while you can."

"Get while the getting's good," they say.

"Possession proves the better man." Yet, wolves and wildcats live that way.

But wolves and wildcats need no more

Than strength and speed to strike and kill.

They've only food to battle for
Their stomachs day by day to fill.

Beyond themselves they've thought for none,

No wish to better what they find
Or for the ones who follow on Glad memories to leave behind.

To wolves and wildcats are denied
The hopes and dreams allowed to man.

The joys of pity and of pride,
And living to a nobler plan.

DUFF STANDING FIRM ON NEW TAX PROPOSAL

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Gov. James H. Duff held firmly to his recommendations for $133,000,000 in new taxes as Lancaster county tobacco growers came here today to protest to him against a proposed penny-a-smoke tax on cigars.

"I have no substitutes or changes to offer to my tax program," Duff told a news conference yesterday. "I have already put in the budget the taxes I am recommending."

The governor said in response to a question that his stand on no changes in taxes "definitely" included the proposal to repeal the manufacturer's exemption from the capitol stock tax, estimated to bring in $24,000,000 biennially.

Approved By House

Duff said of the meeting with the tobacco group that "I can meet with them but the people for them to see are over there" waving his hand in the direction of the legislative halls.

The governor recommended the new levies to help provide funds for an $860,000,000 budget in the next two years in face of rising governmental costs and declining revenues from existing taxes.

The House already has approved by overwhelming majorities measures to continue and expand corporation taxes, increase those on beer and cigarettes and impose new ones on soft drinks, cigars and tobacco products.

To Hear Protests

The Senate finance committee will hear protests against the new levies on Wednesday, April 9, with Chairman James A. Geltz (R-Allegheny) forecasting probable committee action before the close of the day.

Duff's firm stand against any changes in his tax program came in answer to questions about a proposal made in the Legislature to license juke boxes and impose an amusement tax to raise $50,000,000 for school purposes. The measure is in addition to those already backed by the administration.

House Republican leaders, meanwhile, disavowed any administration support for a bill to require parents of school children with ailments uncovered by school health tests to provide follow-up care or face penalties ranging up to three months in jail.

FOOLPROOF

Philadelphia (AP)—There were three robberies at Charles H. Smith's real estate office, so he installed a burglar alarm system, kept the front door locked, admitted all patrons personally and heaved a happy sigh. Smith went away from the office yesterday, a man rapped on the door, was admitted by employees and at pistol point took $10, a wrist watch and a ring.

Appropriation Bill Is Signed Into Law

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—An $8,631,000 appropriation measure to provide funds for state departments and agencies until May 31 was signed into law yesterday by Gov. James H. Duff a few hours after it was passed unanimously by the state.

The new law brought to more than $32,000,000 the deficiency appropriations made so far by the 1947 legislature. Previously approved was $23,400,000 for the continuance of public assistance.

The appropriation signed yesterday provided among other things for $3,094,000 for the operation by the welfare department of the state's mental hospitals for the remainder of the biennium. Practically every other state agency and department shared in the allotment.

Price, same place, an 127-acre property in that township.

The Strange Returning

Chapter 21

Jeff ran to the mouth of the cave. The voice continued to call and he thought worriedly of Linda and wondered if Mr. Hardy had suffered another bad coughing attack.

A low scudding wind had come up, it sent the dust devils spiraling skyward and played tricks with the arroyos and ridges, echoing and reechoing against the rock formations. It came from the east, bringing Monica's voice to him distinctly yet flinging the words back in his face when he tried to answer her. He knew she couldn't hear him and was apprehensive.

"Go back! Go back!" He shouted warningly even though he realized his efforts were futile. She continued to walk toward him and he began to run.

She was a long way off yet not so far that Jeff couldn't see that she was bootless. A cold horror filled him. As he and Star had ridden toward the mine earlier in the day, an ugly rattler basking in the winking sunshine had occupied the center of the path. Ordinarily Jeff would have stopped to kill it, but he was impatient to inspect the mine and had reined the gelding off the path and by-passed that spot. As the scent of the reptile drifted to him Star had whinnied in fear.

Now Monica was approaching that very section of the path!

"Don't come any further!" he yelled and waved her back.

She stopped where she was as though uncertain of his words, then with an eager laughing snout that carried on the wind she broke into a run.

Her scream of terror split the air a moment later. . . .

Jeff saw her stumble over something in the path, heard her cry out in shrill horror and watched her drag herself away from the spot. When he reached her side a moment later she was sobbing wildly.

"He struck me, Jeff! He struck me!"

The young snake had recoiled himself to strike again, his beady yellow malevolent eyes glittering evil in the sunlight. Putting his hands beneath her arm pits Jeff pulled Monica out of the rattler's range, then picked her up and carried her to a bare spot between two giant saguaros. She clung to him like a child, crying uncontrollably.

He examined the two red puncture marks above her ankle and took out his penknife; he moved decisively and swiftly.

"This is going to hurt, Monica, but it's the only thing to do—"

She nodded mutely, staring at him with frightened yet fascinated eyes.

He tied his bandanna tight above the wound then, as Monica moaned softly, made two clean incisions over the fang marks. A moment later he was sucking the poison from the punctures and spitting it into the sand. As she watched the procedure Monica's fright left her; she managed a smile. . . .

"How exciting! It's just like the cinema."

Jeff spat viciously. "Only in the movies the heroine doesn't swell up and turn black in the face."

She shuddered. "You're joking! That won't happen to me, will it, Jeff?"

"Snake bites are not a joking matter, Monica, as you'll find out in a short while because you're going to be quite sick. I thought you knew better than to walk around the desert with bare legs."

"Oh, I didn't believe all that melodrama stuff."

"So you're one of those people who has to learn everything by personal experience? It looks as though you've a rocky life ahead of you."

She smiled slowly. "Then I'm going to live?"

"I'm afraid so. Linda has some antivenom — we'll give you a shot of that. Not many people die of snake bite if they're reached in time."

"My hero!" Monica's tone was sarcastic, her eyes narrowed to fine slits. "And to think I got this bite just because of you!"

"Don't try to make me responsible."

"Well, it was all because of you," she persisted.

He straightened on one knee, facing her steadily, wiping the perspiration from his forehead with his sleeve.

"All right, let's have it!" he said wearily.

"Well, you seemed so cool the other day when we passed you in the station wagon, I thought we must have done something to offend you and I wanted to find out what it was and apologize — if apologies were in order, that is."

"They're not," Jeff said. "My temper was just a reflection of some bad news I'd had. I don't conceal my feelings very well."

Monica smiled. "That's all right by me—I'm growing just a bit tired of the suave man-of-the-world type anyway."

Jeff refused to comment. He picked her up and strode rapidly toward the station wagon. Monica had driven in until it was impossible to move any further; Jeff had to back almost to the main road. She watched him with drowsy heavy-lidded eyes.

"Jeff, I feel sort of funny."

"You'll feel funnier in another hour," he said, "but don't get in a lather about it, you're not going to die."

"I don't think I'd mind very much with you here beside me."

In spite of himself Jeff laughed, —not even a rattlesnake bite could vanquish Monica's flair for self-dramatization. But when they reached the abode, Linda found no humor in the situation. She got the syringe of anti-venom and gave Monica a shot with cool practiced hands.

"Well, why don't you say it?" Monica said to her.

"Say what?"

"I told you so. That's what you're thinking, isn't it?"

"Nurses are taught that rubbing salt into wounds isn't a very good idea."

"They probably think sarcasm leaves a deeper scar."

For a long pregnant moment their glances met and held, then with a little hopeless gesture Linda turned and left the room; her head was high. Monica's eyes followed her. Jeff, watching Monica, thought the rattlesnake's eyes would have appeared gentle by comparison with the sheer venom that glowed in the girl's.

Chapter 22

At Jeff's request Linda saddled her mare and set out to get Star, for Jeff had left him tethered near the mine entrance. She seemed glad to oblige him yet there was a distance and formality in her manner that perplexed him. He wished he hadn't had to make use of her, yet he couldn't leave the gelding out on the desert at the mercy of snakes and gilas.

Monica, however, looked pleased with the arrangement.

When Jeff placed her once more in the station wagon, she began to hum, her fingers drumming an accompaniment on the door. He shot her a puzzled inquiring glance.

"You don't seem to be feeling too badly."

"I do, though. My ankle's beginning to swell, it hurts terribly."

"Then why all the song and cymbal?"

"If you were a woman you'd understand."

Jeff grinned wryly. "Since I'm not, suppose you tell me."

"It's just that it's amusing to witness an emotional situation where one person is patiently in love and the object of her affections is so totally unaware of it."

"Meaning?"

"Meaning that Linda Hardy is so in love with you that she's absolutely sickening. You're not aware of it and she hasn't to put it delicately—the guts to tell you."

"The muscles in his lean jaws twitched. 'You're mistaken!'"

"A woman never makes that sort of mistake about another woman. It is something we recognize instinctively."

Jeff concentrated on taking the car smoothly through a dry wash. "Since you know so much, does it occur to you that I might possibly be in love with Linda too?"

All Monica's cool sophistication dropped from her like a cast-off garment. "Jeff, you're not!"

His eyes focused stonily ahead of the car. "Yes, I think I am, but I've been in such a turmoil since I returned home that I haven't had time to think about it. To put it bluntly, Monica, my affairs are in a tangled mess and I don't intend dragging anyone else into my life until I've got it straightened out."

Her glance slid off him disinterestedly. "Well, that's not very encouraging I must say—I'm going to be here only another month and I thought we could have fun together."

"I'm sorry. I could use a little fun after four years of war and I can't think of a more attractive girl to share it with, but I've got other things on my mind right now."

"Don't apologize," she said stiffly. "The world is full of men."

He grinned. "Not according to statistics, but I guess for you it always will be, Monica."

Her face had gone suddenly white and he pushed the accelerator almost to the floor boards. A moment later she put out her hand and gripped his sleeve. "Jeff, I'm going to be sick—"

The station wagon came to an abrupt halt. Monica was violently ill at the side of the road but she achieved a pained smile as Jeff wiped the dew of perspiration from her forehead and led her stumbling back to the car.

"So this is what snakes do to you!" she gasped.

"You're getting off lightly, lady. This is just one of the milder examples of what a rattler can do."

"It must be my rugged constitution," she said mockingly and promptly was sick again.

Claude Gentry was seated on the long canvas-decked veranda when they drove up. When he saw Jeff at the wheel and Monica slumped beside him, he got to his feet quickly and came over.

"What's wrong? What's happened to Monica?"

Jeff watched the shrewd blue eyes turn dark with anxiety and found it difficult to believe that the worried man standing before him could be responsible for the death of Amos Larabee.

"She was bitten by a rattler," he explained tonelessly. "We've done everything possible for her, including a shot of antivenom, but if it will make you feel better you might send into McCloud for a doctor."

"My poor little girl. . . . My God, a rattlesnake!" Gentry stared at his daughter helplessly.

"I'll be all right, Dad. Jeff says I'm not going to die."

"Die! I should say not! Don't use that word, my dear."

He looked almost terrified and Jeff suddenly recalled the photograph of the dead Mrs. Gentry which he had noticed on the copper-king's desk on his previous visit.

In appearance, Monica was a second edition of her mother.

"If you'll lead the way, sir," he said, "I'll carry Monica to her room. You'd better have someone put her to bed and give her a shot of whiskey or brandy as a stimulant."

Gentry led Jeff to a luxurious bedroom then disappeared. He returned a few minutes later followed by a maid who entered the room and shut the door. Mr. Gentry turned to Jeff—

"Gill stayed over in Phoenix so

DUFF WOULD LIMIT STATE'S TEACHER AID

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Pennsylvania's 60,000 teachers likely will get $27,000,000—but no more—from the state for increased salaries in the next two years if Gov. James H. Duff has his way.

Any larger pay boost must be financed by local school districts which he said must be given a broad-based tax base to permit levies other than those on real estate.

A bill now in the Legislature, backed by the powerful Pennsylvania State Educational Association and listed for a public hearing this month, would hike mandated minimums by $1,000—from $1,400 to $2,400 a year—and cost the common-

I sent Fawcett into town for a doctor. I hope you're not offended. Irskine, I'd like the opinion of a professional man."

"Offended!" Jeff smiled bitterly. "Mr. Gentry, after what you've done to me, you could hardly offend me."

Gentry's mouth fell open. "I don't think I understand you."

He seemed sincerely bewildered and Jeff felt his inward misgivings rise to the surface again. Still he had told only three people about Larabee and the Hardys were absolutely trustworthy. It could have been no one but Gentry.

"I talked to you in confidence, sir, and you betrayed me."

"Look here son, there's been some mistake, I enjoyed our little chat immensely and I'm on your side. I thought you realized that. . . ."

"I let you bluff me all right. What I didn't realize was that when it came to gaining your ends you wouldn't stop at murder."

"Murder! Good Lord, Irskine, you don't know what you're saying!"

"I wish I didn't," Jeff said bitterly.

wealth an additional $78,000,000 for the next biennium.

Local Responsibility

The $27,000,000 left unallocated in the 1947-49 budget for possible teacher salary boosts, Duff said, represents "very definitely the maximum of the state's obligation."

"For the residue," he added, "it is clearly a responsibility of local government and that responsibility must be met at that level."

The executive reiterated a contention that the General Assembly should enact legislation permitting the broadening of the local tax base to take up the slack on teachers' salaries—$51,000,000, for example, if the PSEA bill is passed—declaring:

Tax Equalization Board

"I feel confident that the members of the General Assembly understand the plight of these (school) districts and consequently will provide a broader tax base, a base competent to afford such additional revenues as will adequately support the schools and contribute a substantial portion of the necessary increase of teachers' salaries in x x x these districts."

At the same time, the governor told newsmen he is proposing legislation to set up a board of equalization in the Department of Public Instruction to act on standardizing real estate valuation assessments.

Real estate valuations, in many instances, are "far below" the actual value of the property, Duff said, explaining the equalization board would prevent school districts from "passing the buck on to us" for more

D'ALESSANDRO IS MAYOR WINNER

Baltimore, April 3 (AP)—Rep. Thomas D'Alessandro, Jr., Democratic congressman from Maryland's third district since 1939, will oppose Deely K. Nice, Republican nephew of Maryland's late governor, in the May 6 election for mayor of Baltimore.

D'Alessandro won the Democratic nomination in Tuesday's primary by a margin of some 15,000 votes over his nearest rival, City Comptroller Howard E. Crook, one of nine other contenders. The 43-year-old D'Alessandro's total was 58,040 on the basis of complete unofficial returns, while Crook drew 43,167.

Nice easily outran Henry T. Reut-state aid where they have failed to assess fairly local property valuations.

SEEK HUGE FUND FROM U.S. FOR CANCER BATTLE

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, (AP)—Here it is again: An attempt to start a huge drive against cancer.

Next to heart disease, cancer is the greatest cause of death in the United States. Every three minutes someone dies of cancer.

Rep. Dirksen, Illinois Republican, has asked Congress to vote $50,000,000 for a cancer fight.

It would be done in the same way this country developed the atomic bomb: By pooling the best medical and scientific brains and efforts.

Last year Rep. Neely, West Virginia Democrat, asked Congress to vote $100,000,000 for the fight. But Congress didn't. Now Dirksen tries it.

What He Proposes

Cancer research in this country being done by specialists, private hospitals and laboratories, and by the government's own research center, the National Cancer Research Institution near Washington.

This is what Dirksen's proposal would do if Congress approves it:

The money, $50,000,000, would go to President Truman. He could call in the best medical and scientific men in the country.

In 1900 cancer was ninth on the list of killing diseases. Now it's second, next to heart disease. Cancer deaths are going up.

In 1944 about 175,000 people died of cancer. In 1945 the number was 177,000. The 1946 figures are not in yet. They'll be higher.

Worse Than War

About 273,000 Americans died in action in World War II. In the years 1942 through 1945 about 675,000 people died of cancer.

When he made his proposal to Congress, Dirksen said: "While the death rate for many common diseases has been steadily declining, the death rate for cancer has been increasing.

"The grim and ironic paradox is that medical science has taught us how to save our children from smallpox, from diphtheria, from scarlet fever, from dysentery and diarrheas, only to have them reach an age at which they may be killed by cancer.

"Medicine has succeeded magnificently in the effort to prolong life, so that a baby at birth is said to have a life expectancy of almost 65 years.

Disease of Adults

"But though the chances for each baby to reach adulthood are good, the chances for an adult to die of old age have improved hardly at all.

"Cancer is essentially a disease of adults. It is because human beings are living longer that cancer is now assuming an importance which it formerly did not have. As more persons reach maturity, their chance of being stricken by cancer increases.

"A woman at 35, a man at 45, enters upon the period of greatest danger.

"What we need is total warfare against cancer—fundamental research in biology, physics, chemistry, medicine, on any question that offers the slightest hope of a connection with the subject of cancer."

Washington, April 3 (AP)—David Gray, minister to Ireland, resigned Wed. His cabinet resignation, effective July 1, was accepted by President Truman. Gray attributed his action to "personal reasons."

KING PAUL OF GREECE FORMS NEW CABINET

By DIMITRI TRAVLOS

Athens, April 3 (AP)—King Paul, the new monarch of Greece, designated Premier Demetrios Maximos and a seven-party coalition cabinet to carry on as the government of this strife-torn land Wed. as one of his first acts after ascending a throne vacated by the death of his brother.

Maximos, who was appointed to head the cabinet by the late King George II last January 24, submitted his resignation immediately after Paul took the oath of office Tues. night, but the new king refused to accept it and requested Maximos to continue in office.

Maximos, a 74-year-old financier, is a member of the Populist party. His cabinet, which includes five former premiers, contains members of the Social Democrat, National Liberal, Reformist, Venizelist Liberal, National Unionist and Nationalist parties.

Funeral Sunday

Meanwhile, it was announced that funeral services for King George, who died unexpectedly of a heart ailment Tuesday at the age of 56, would be held Sunday. Burial is to be at the royal family tomb at Ta-tol (Dekeleia), the country residence where George was born. Tatol is about 15 miles north of Athens.

The body is to be removed to the Athens cathedral Thursday to lie in state until the funeral.

An official announcement said a post mortem performed by the court doctor and two university professors had revealed that George's death was caused "by heart failure due to arteriosclerosis and thrombosis of the coronary arteries."

New King In Six Hours

In addition to the oath which he took Tues. night, the new king also must be sworn in before the National Assembly when it reconvenes on April 21.

The 45-year-old Paul, who succeeded his childless brother automatically under Greek law, took the following oath six hours after George expired:

"I swear in the name of the Holy

Paul obviously was deeply moved as he took the oath. As he uttered the last word his attendants and members of Parliament from all parties who were present at the ceremony exclaimed:

"Long live King Paul."

of-state residents will pay more for New Jersey hunting and fishing licenses next year, under terms of legislation approved in the Assembly Monday.

The House amended a Senate bill, which originally charged non-residents as much as their state charges New Jerseyans, with the final enactment calling for a flat $15 to hunt and $5 to fish. The $10 combination license for non-residents was abolished.

The state Fish and Game Council, which sponsored the bill, declared that the costs will equal those charged by Pennsylvania and New York. The neighboring states provided 97 per cent of the 4,829 non-residents who held Jersey fishing licenses last year, compared with the 2,500 with combination licenses.

During World War II the number of people employed by Class I U. S. railroads rose from about 1,000,000 to about 1,420,000.

★ "Give me health and a day and I will make the pomp of emperors ridiculous" was Ralph Waldo Emerson's terse but eloquent opinion of the value of health. MOST FAMILIES WANT WAR DEAD BROUGHT HOME

By RUTH COWAN

Washington, April 3 (AP)—Should the remains of Americans who died abroad in World War II be brought home for burial?

Their families are not making a snap decision on this, but three-fourths of those the government has heard from say yes.

Congress has authorized bringing the bodies back to this country at government expense if the relatives desire.

The War Department quartermaster corps sent out its first 20,000 letters of inquiry to the next of kin of soldiers, sailors and marines early in March.

Causes for Delay

So far it has had fewer than 1,000 replies. But more than 75 per cent of these want the dead to lie in U. S. ground.

Maj. Gen. Thomas B. Larkin, the quartermaster general, is charged with the responsibility of carrying out the repatriation program. He had hoped to see it begin in August. But now it is believed it will be September or October before it starts.

This is because of difficulty in getting a supply of steel caskets, locating the next of kin—many of whom have moved—and the seeming indecision of the living.

That families take their time to decide—talk it over with relatives and the clergy, if desired—is approved by the War Department. It is seen as a question not to be answered quickly or without thought.

HOESS TO DIE FOR MILLIONS OF EXECUTIONS

Warsaw, April 3 (AP)—Rudolf Hoess must pay with his own life for more than 4,000,000 lives snuffed out at Oswiecim (Auschwitz) extermination camp in the two and a half years he was Nazi commandant there.

The 47-year-old ex-colonel, on trial for three weeks, was sentenced to death last night by the nine-judge Polish Supreme National Tribunal. The condemned man, stocky and clean shaven and wearing a green German officer's uniform, was calm and attentive as he listened through headphones to the hour-long reading of the judgment. The courtroom was crowded.

Hoess is permitted to ask President Boleslaw Bierut for clemency, but even should he do so this seemed certain to be denied. No date was set for the execution.

In the trial, the prosecution accused Hoess of supervising the gassing and cremation of some 3,000,000 Jews and 1,000,000 other men, women and children from a dozen countries—including Poland, Russia, Hungary, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Czechoslovakia—at the camp in southwestern Poland, 32 miles west of Krakow.

Says Dams Spoil Fishing In River

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Dams on the lower reaches of the Susquehanna river are depriving sportsmen of good fishing as well as eliminating a source of employment, Rep. George C. Shoemaker (R-Schuylkill), said today in a statement.

Shoemaker and Rep. Ivan Watkins (R), also of Schuylkill county, introduced a resolution in the House yesterday calling for an investigation of the situation by the joint state government commission.

Today Shoemaker reiterated his demands for construction of fishways at Conowingo dam, part of which is in Maryland, and at Safe Harbor and Holtwood dams, Lancaster and York counties.

Saying that millions of fish "heavy with spawn" are prevented from reaching the upper Susquehanna by "the towering breast of Conowingo dam," Shoemaker contended that original permits issued to the dam owners required them to construct fishways.

Schoolboy Finds $1,200 Lying Along Street

Plymouth, Pa., April 3 (AP)—Trotting home from school, Thomas Williams found 24 greenbacks and he laughingly distributed it as play money among his classmates.

One boy took his bill home to pop who knew a fifty when he saw it and promptly notified police.

After a hurried roundup, the $1,200 was returned to Avelino Moro, a miner who said he lost it on the way to a bank.

Moro gave a $50 bill to Thomas who was reported today to be studying it closely so that the next time he finds a pot of gold he'll not think it's fool's gold.

STATE CLAIMS CELLAR CACHE IN PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—The dreams of untold wealth of some 28 claimants to the $92,800 cache found in a South Philadelphia cellar by a $75 a week bookkeeper appeared ready to blow up today in the face of a state claim on the money.

A formal claim under the escheatment act of 1889 was made by Graeme Frazier, Jr., escheator appointed in the case by David W. Harris, state secretary of revenue. Frazier served notice on city officials and the Tradesmen's National Bank and Trust company, depository for the funds, not to dispose of the money pending presentation of the Commonwealth's claim.

May Use "Treasure Trove" Law
The escheatment act is not the Commonwealth's only basis for obtaining the money found in a cardboard box by Benjamin Lieberman early last month. James F. Ryan, counsel for the Philadelphia bureau of police, said the state also might seek the loot under the old English law governing "treasure trove." Under this law, the crown could lay claim to any buried treasure to which there was no legitimate claimant, Ryan said.

But Lieberman and 27 other would-be owners of the money haven't given up the fight. The bookkeeper, who denies any knowledge of how the money found its way into his cellar, has engaged an attorney.

And as if there were not enough fingers in the pie, special intelligence units of the bureau of internal revenue and the enforcement division of the Office of Price Administration are investigating. And Uncle Sam can't be counted out. The secretary of the treasury is determining just how much income tax he will collect regardless of who the lucky claimant turns out to be.

PICKETS RESUME
Pittsburgh, April 3 (AP)—CIO leaders today ordered picketing resumed at offices of the Monumental Life Insurance Co. and said pickets would take their stand next week at the firm's offices in McKeesport and Beaver Falls in support of union demands for wage increases.

PACIFIC ISLES GO UNDER U.S. CONTROL TODAY

By LARRY HAUCK

Lake Success, N. Y., April 3 (AP)—The vast chains of Pacific islands where Japan mounted her attack against the United States officially went under American control today through security council approval of a United Nations strategic area trusteeship.

Four hours after the unanimous council decision last night, American Delegate Warren R. Austin boarded a train for Washington with the major victory in his pocket. Austin won the significant triumph in a bitter round of closing debate, where Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko at one point abstained on a contested section rather than exercise the veto.

"U. N. Does Work"
Commenting that "this demonstrates that the United Nations does work," Austin took the report to Capitol Hill, where he was called before a House committee to testify on expenditures of the American U. N. delegation. Austin likewise advised his old colleagues in the Senate, which must finally ratify the agreement, but this was expected to be a routine step.

The agreement gives the United States sweeping rights, amounting to virtual annexation, under which the government may fortify the vital islands, close them at will for security reasons, and ban foreign aircraft.

As sole administering authority, the United States also reserved the right to reject any modification or alteration of the terms. This was the point where Gromyko raised his strongest objections, contending that the council itself should hold such powers.

In the end the 16-article document rode through the council virtually without change from the version first made public by President Truman.

Covered in the agreement were all the former Japanese mandates, including the Marshalls, Marianas and Carolines which housed such well-known war bases as Saipan, Tinian, Truk, Kwajalein, Eniwetok and Majuro. The 634 islands, sparsely settled, were described by Austin in debate as "vital to the security of the United States."

The council's approval, virtually assured when Moscow dispatched a surprise note of acceptance to Washington on the eve of council consideration, climaxed five months of study and negotiations.

In its note to the United States, the Kremlin laid great emphasis on the major role played by America in the Pacific war, and some observers immediately speculated that the Russians might be laying the groundwork for similar agreements covering areas in the European theater where Soviet power was predominant.

'April Fool Gag' Is $200 Pearl Instead

Collingswood, N. J., April 3 (AP)—Here's a bit of April Fool addenda: Lewis M. Westcott, sea food house proprietor, opened an oyster and found an object which looked like a pearl.

"It's just a rusty old April Fool gag," his brother-in-law told him. Westcott took the object to a jeweler who told him the rusty joke was worth $200 to $300.

Says UN Must Decide Whether Russia Wants Union Or World Revolution

ERIC JOHNSTON ACCUSES RUSSIA OF 'SABOTAGE'

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP) — The Soviet Union stood accused today of "sabotaging" the United Nations and Eric Johnston declared it is up to the international body to determine whether Russia wants world union or world revolution.

Headlining a group of four speakers at a rally of the United Nations council of Philadelphia, the former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce asserted that "Russia has been the chief culprit in undermining the United Nations."

Through use of "obstructive policies," Johnston asserted, the Russians so weakened U. N. that it was "powerless" to aid Greece and Turkey, thus forcing the United States to take the initial step.

Cites USSR Record Johnston, new president of the motion picture association of America, said of Russia:

"She has not joined the related organizations of the United Nations, such as UNESCO, the food and agricultural organization and the international labor organization.

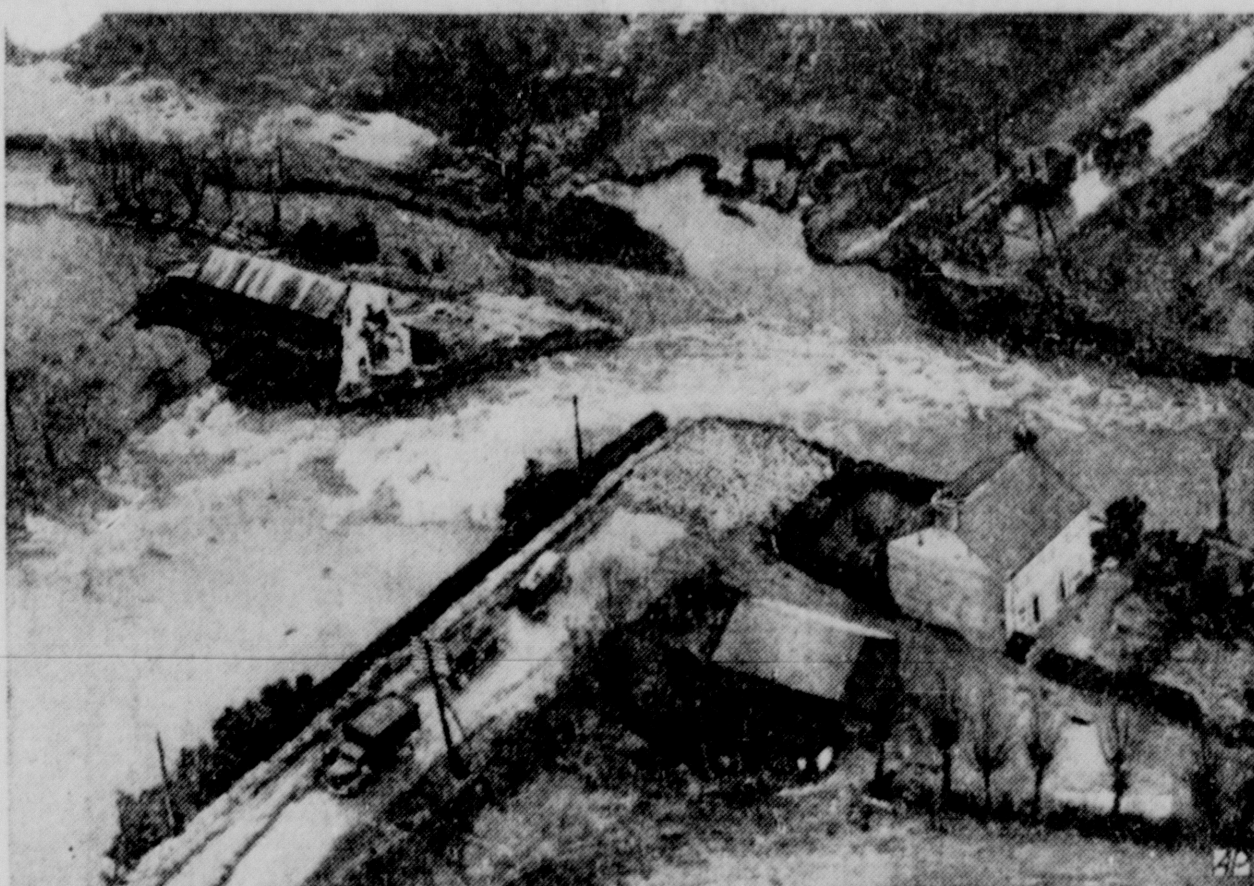

"Neither has she become associated with the international bank or the international monetary fund. These and other agencies were set up to promote political understanding and world economic recovery."

The United States' program of aid to Greece and Turkey is designed, said Johnston, "to prevent war." He declared the U. S. aims to stop Russian aggression and help the Mediterranean nations help themselves.

Earlier in last night's program, Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder told the gathering the cost of the proposed $400,000,000 loan to Greece and Turkey "concerns everyone," but added the loan is necessary "for the preservation of the fruits of the military victory."

James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, called for a labor voice in forming policy, explaining labor "pays the bills" and "fights the wars" when a policy fails to function.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass.) expressed faith in the success of U. N., stating "every component unit of the United Nations is working to promote and protect the basic human rights of all people."

East Berlin

East Berlin.—The Rev. Alvin J. Perry, pastor of the local Evangelical and Reformed charge, officiated Sunday morning at Communion services at the Bermudian and Red Run Churches and Sunday evening at the town church.

Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney has received word that her cousin, Dr. Charles F. Kuhn, Port Townsend, Wash., octogenarian, who submitted to an operation several months ago, remains in very poor health. Dr. Kuhn spent his boyhood in this section, having been raised by his grandparents, the late Col. and Mrs. Joseph J. Kuhn.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Mummert, local market operators who are transferring their business to their new store west of York, conducted public auction of their stock and some of their household goods on Friday and Saturday. A record-breaking crowd was present and prices realized were very good.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory W. Sell, Jr., have purchased a piece of the Edward Livingston property south of town and have broken ground for the erection of their new home there. The Sells formerly farmed in Reading township and moved to town a year ago. They now reside in the George W. Moul property at the square.

The Lutheran congregation of Holtzschwamm church, near town, observed the quarterly Communion service on Palm Sunday morning in charge of Pastor Elwood G. Johnson. The Reformed congregation of the church plan a similar service on Easter Sunday morning with preparatory service at 8 p.m. Good Friday. The Rev. John S. Royer is the Reformed pastor.

The Women's Guild of Holtzschwamm church recently heard an illustrated lecture on India by a Rossville clergyman. India is the country now being studied by the Women's Missionary society of Holtzschwamm church.

M. R. Sharrer, York, visited during the week with Mr. and Mrs. Augustine J. Tierney.

Mrs. Grace Roland is able to be about after two days' confinement to bed due to grippe.

Miss Mary Weaver is convalescing at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Charles Joseph, near town, following several days' treatment at the Warner hospital.

Harold R. Shetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Shetter, a student at West Chester State Teachers' college, is spending the Easter recess at Atlantic City, N. J., where he has a temporary hotel position.

CHICAGO HOPES OF GOP BLASTED BY LANDSLIDE

Chicago, April 3 (AP)—Republican hopes of smashing the Democrats' 16-year-old "big city" political dynasty lay shattered today under a tide of Democratic votes that swept Martin H. Kennelly into office as Chicago's new mayor.

In the nation's first major 1947 test of political trends, the Democrats recovered from a stunning setback suffered in last November's Congressional and county elections to score their biggest victory in a mayoralty contest in 12 years.

Both sides waged all-out campaigns to win with control of the city hall most likely to have an important bearing on how Illinois' 28 electoral votes go in the 1948 Presidential contest.

Skirmish for 1948

Carroll Reece, Republican national chairman, had termed the contest an "important preliminary engagement" to next year's Presidential battle. Complete returns showed Kennelly's majority was 273,354 votes over Russell W. Root, his Republican opponent. Kennelly's Dem. running mates, Ludwig D. Schreiber for city clerk and Joseph T. Baran for city treasurer, also scored easy victories. The total vote of 1,586,941 was the largest in the history of a mayoral ballot.

Returns from the city's 4,054 precincts gave Kennelly 919,593 to 646,239 for Root.

The Republicans, who won 14 of the 17 Cook (Chicago) county offices last November, scored their only gains in the Democratic dominated city council.

Kennelly, 59-year-old silver-haired business man in his first bid for elective office, described himself as an independent Democrat who had "not promised anybody anything" and was "under no obligation to any man or group of men."

He was supported by retiring Mayor Edward J. Kelly and his powerful Democratic organization. Kelly, after a record tenure of 14 years, stepped aside this year.

Root, 49-year-old lawyer who as Cook county Republican chairman, directed his party to victory in last November's county contests, was supported by Gov. Dwight H. Green's Republican organization.

New York, (AP)—Mr. Bear, Mr. Wolf, Mr. Fox and company will not be at home to telephone callers tomorrow at the Bronx zoo. The telephone company began screening April 1 telephone calls last year and stopped 2,708 of them plaguing unamused zoo officials.

WIFE CHANGES TESTIMONY IN AUTO KILLING

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Caruso, 22-year-old woman who was to have been the commonwealth's principal witness in the auto killing trial of her husband, John, threw a snag into the prosecution's case by saying she failed to remember statements she previously made in a signed statement.

Caruso is on trial for murder in the death of 21-year-old Frances Diamond, who was killed when a car pinned her against the wall of a South Philadelphia home.

In his opening plea, Assistant District Attorney Ephraim Lipschutz told a jury of seven women and five men he would show through testimony that Caruso, 24, "chased his wife into the house with a knife, threatening to kill her and her family."

Describes Death

On the witness stand Tuesday, Mrs. Caruso described the death of Miss Diamond, saying the other woman had been killed and she herself injured by the car. Then, she said, she ran into the house.

"Who followed you in?" asked Lipschutz.

"My husband," she answered. "Did he say something to you?"

"No."

She said she did not remember saying her husband had threatened to kill her and her entire family and added she did not know if it was her husband who drove the death car as Lipschutz said she related in her December 13 statement to police.

Could Not Remember

Upon reading the statement, Mrs. Caruso insisted she could not remember "ever saying those things."

Earlier, Thomas D. McBride, counsel for Caruso, objected when the prosecutor called the woman to the stand, arguing she could not be compelled to testify against her husband.

Judge Harry S. McDevitt overruled the objection, saying she could testify providing she did not incriminate her husband.

At one point Lipschutz asked the woman: "When did you lose your memory, after you visited your father-in-law and made a statement at McBride's office?"

She said she had visited the attorney's office but insisted "I just don't remember those things."

MINERS TALK OF BAN AGAINST UNSAFE MINES

By HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, April 3 (AP)—The government tried to bolster its coal mine services today—amid threats of an extended shutdown of "unsafe" mines.

The six-day memorial work stoppage called by John L. Lewis for the 111 victims of the Centralia, Ill., catastrophe, is due to end Easter Sunday night. But union officials in two midwest districts declared the miners there will not work next week in pits they regard as too dangerous.

With this possibility in mind—plus the chance that still other diggers might extend the memorial period on their own, the 500 employees of the solid fuels administration were placed on a standby basis while that agency is being liquidated.

SFA Has Ended
So far as its legal status is concerned, the SFA was wiped out with expiration of the second war powers act at midnight Sunday—coincidentally, the time Lewis set for the start of the unprecedented nationwide mourning period.

That also was the date the United Mine Workers chief set for the expiration of his winter strike truce—later revoked after the supreme court upheld his and the Union's contempt convictions.

Hence Secretary of the Interior Krug held off until Tuesday serving 30 day dismissal notices on the SFA employees—an action which will keep them available through April.

The agency's chief functions in previous mine shutdowns has been to set up allocation rules to spread the supply of coal among essential users.

Sayres Stays
That authority expired with the War Powers act, however, and Congress would have to reinstate it if similar action were to be taken in the days or weeks ahead. But the fact that the workers familiar with procedure still are available would avoid any lost motion.

WIFE WINS DIVORCE

Norristown, Pa., April 3 (AP)—Helen Potter Weightman, 71, was granted a divorce from 79-year-old Aubrey H. Weightman, wealthy Philadelphia clubman, after Special Master Therman P. Britt reported: "He took a great delight in physically mistreating her wrists behind her and throwing his full weight on her back, whereby she was forced to the floor and almost suffocated."

In a related development bearing on the coal situation, President Truman acted, also at Krug's request, to keep Dr. R. R. Sayres as head of the bureau of mines for the time being.

Sayres was to have been moved to the public health service, but Krug's choice of a successor, Dr. James Boyd, ran into bitter criticism from Lewis in two appearances before the Senate Public Lands committee. Lewis contended Boyd is unqualified for the post for lack of coal mining experience.

TAX PROTESTS TO BE HEARD BY COMMITTEE

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Objections to the $133,000,000 in new taxes proposed by Gov. James H. Duff will be aired before the Senate Finance committee at public hearings on Wednesday, April 9.

Heeding demands from groups protesting new taxes on soft drinks and cigars, Chairman James A. Getz (R-Allegheny) said the Senate committee will devote a full day to the entire tax program.

Approved by overwhelming Republican majorities in the House last week, the tax measures would raise millions in additional revenues by modification of corporation levies, boosting state cigarette taxes one cent and doubling those on beer and taxing soft drinks, cigars and tobacco products for the first time.

Equal Time For Tobacco Men
"We plan to give the tobacco growers, the soft drink interests and others an equal amount of time to state their case," Getz said following the committee's decision on hearings yesterday. "It seems to me that is the only sensible way."

House Republicans, meantime, lined up almost solidly behind a proposal to increase the hours of women in industry from 44 to 48 hours a week with provision for overtime pay for the extra four hours, up for a final vote today.

The GOP majority in the lower branch defeated, 140-46, a move by Rep. James Lovett (D-Westmoreland) to postpone action on the measure of Rep. Jeannette Dye (R-Mercer), which also would permit women to work on the midnight shifts with the sanction of the state Department of Labor and Industry.

The Republican leadership in the House also sent back to committee for revision the Brunner-Stonier measure to broaden the taxing powers of local municipalities, Rep. Charles H. Erudder, Jr. (R-Montgomery) explaining the changes will be aimed at removing the possibility of "double taxation."

The measure would permit politi-

GI'S TAKE CASE BACK TO COURT

Philadelphia, April 3 (AP)—Philadelphia's fruit-peddling GI taxicab drivers today challenged legality of a 1937 act as they took their fight for a franchise right back to the cal subdivisions, including school districts, to levy any tax not now imposed by the commonwealth to raise funds for increased governmental costs. These levies could include sales or wage taxes.

same state supreme court which ordered them off Quaker city streets.

Nearly half the GI taxicab association's 100-man membership has applied for licenses to sell apples and bananas in cabs converted to fruit stands in a move spokesmen said was to earn sufficient money to push the fight.

Counsel for the association, in filing motion for a rehearing of the supreme court ruling, said in effect that the court overlooked an association challenge of the constitutionality of the Public Utility Act of 1937.

Under the act, Dauphin county court of Common pleas at Harrisburg is given exclusive jurisdiction over all cases in which the Public Utility Commission is the plaintiff.

Ask Stay Of Injunction

The petition, filed with the prothonotary of the supreme court yesterday, asked that the case be reargued and that a supersedeas be issued staying the Dauphin court injunction restraining the drivers from operating a tip service. The PUC held that the drivers were not properly organized as a cab company.

New designs in glass bottles include one which is difficult to tip over.

PROBLEM TO HANDLE REDS WITHOUT WAR

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

That certainly was two-fisted language which Representative Crawford, Michigan Republican, used yesterday in testifying before the House Affairs committee that he believes the United States should tell the Russians they must disarm or this country will use her atomic bombs and economic power against them.

The Congressman conceded that such a course would mean war if the Soviet Union defied America but he said that in event of war Russia would "get licked." He added that the people of the U.S.A. "have the power to disarm the world" and should start with Russia.

Well, far be it from us to deny that we are capable of doing whatever seems necessary. Still, having taken this stand, undoubtedly all will agree that it's preferable if possible to handle this communistic world-revolution without another global conflict at arms.

War between the two most powerful nations—both with virtually unlimited resources—would be a horror which might drag along for years. True, we could create havoc with our atomic bombs, but the military experts say that major wars aren't going to be won with atomic bombs alone at this stage of the game. All other branches of the armed services would have to be brought into play, including infantry.

Agreeing with Congressman Crawford that America would win, we should have to go in the Russian bear's cave and drag him out by main force. And that would take some doing, for the Soviet empire occupies one-sixth of the world's land surface, and is heavily guarded in Europe by many satellite nations. Such a war would make all past conflicts look like school picnics. That's why the United States government is trying to halt the Red drive by the indirect method of giving material aid to nations which are in the path of communistic aggression. Greece and Turkey are the first to come in line for help.

The death of King George of Greece Tues. injects an entirely new element into a tense situation. It's too early to forecast the effect. Much depends on the character of the little-known Prince Paul, who succeeds to the throne. However, this much can be said now:

Death has removed a weak monarch who was wholly inadequate to provide the necessary leadership in the present emergency. If the new king isn't an improvement, he isn't likely to be worse.

LABOR BILLS IN LIMELIGHT

Harrisburg, April 3 (AP)—Labor legislation took a front seat in the General Assembly Wed. as Republican leaders marked time on the administration tax program pending hearings next week.

The GOP-controlled House passed 118-65 the measure of Rep. Jeanette Dye (R-Mercer) changing women's work week from 44 to 48 hours and authorizing their employment around the clock with the permission of the Department of Labor and Industry.

Adopted by the smallest margin of any key bill so far this session, the measure was approved despite claims of Rep. James E. Lovvett (D., Westmoreland) that its enactment would lead to "bigger and better strikes."

Mrs. Dye insisted the proposal was designed to provide women with "equal job opportunities" and has "nothing to do" with the question of sweat shops. She added women gainfully employed are less liable to "moral indiscretions" than those going to "our so-called places of amusements."

Rep. H. G. Andrews, House Democratic leader, retorted there are those who "in the name of equal job opportunities" would have women work in the mines and the foundries.

MARKETING with Marjorie

Easter is a big day at my house, just as it probably is at yours. A few days beforehand, I start shopping at my A&P, so the family can enjoy all Easter's special good things to eat. Because A&P's prices are modest, my food money goes farther. And A&P's big variety means I can pick and choose from the best of everything available.

FIRST-RATE FIRST COURSE

The last word in first courses... fruit cocktail topped with this sherbet: Boil ½ cup of sugar and 1½ cups of hot water 10 minutes. Sprinkle 1 tsp. of gelatin on top of ½ cup of cold water. Add to sugar syrup, stir till dissolved; add 3 tbsps. of lemon juice, ½ cup of orange juice, 1 pt. of A&P GRAPE JUICE and ¼ tsp. of salt. Freeze. For the rich flavor of fresh grapes, be sure to use A&P GRAPE JUICE!

DONUT DELIGHT

Dollars to donuts, your family will love this dessert made with tender, oven-fresh JANE PARKER DONUTS from the A&P. Split donuts and place vanilla or butter-scotch pudding between the layers. Top with more pudding, and—as a special Easter touch—garnish with 3 or 4 colored Jordan almonds or candy Easter eggs.

CLUE TO GOOD COFFEE

Ever noticed how quickly apples turn brown when they're cut? It's a sign the air is robbing them of freshness. That happens to coffee, too, when the bean is broken by grinding, so take a tip from me and buy your coffee in the whole bean and have it Custom Ground to fit your coffeepot! That's how A&P COFFEE is sold, and believe me, it's grand! Get mild, mellow EIGHT O'CLOCK; rich, full-bodied RED CIRCLE; or vigorous winey BOKAR at the A&P.

EASTER EATING

To please every Easter feaster, do your holiday marketing at the A&P. I'll eat my new Easter bonnet if you don't agree that it's a swell spot to shop! For everything in A&P's big store has been carefully selected and attractively priced. A Happy Easter and the best dishes of the season to you!

Frederick County News

Nurse Retires: Mrs. Marguerite Gaither Simms, for eight years state public health nurse with the Frederick County Health department, has resigned, effective today. Mrs. Simms has had charge of the territory including Linganore, New Market, Liberty, Johnsville, Woodsboro, Walkersville, Creagerstown, New Midway, Mt. Airy, Urbana and parts of Frederick and Emmitsburg. Succeeding her will be Miss Elizabeth Billingslea of Westminster, who has just been graduated from the Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing in Baltimore. Mrs. Simms is retiring from the work. She and her husband, Arthur Simms, reside at "Pleasant Fields Farm," near Unionville.

Salaries and Soter: Salary increases authorized for a number of Frederick county officials in the legislative session which ended Monday would be more than met by the new revenue expected to be forthcoming from the Alexander bill legalizing and licensing mechanical or electrical amusement devices in private (paternal or social) clubs.

Increases in salaries, expense accounts or creation of new positions are expected to reach $10,000 or more a year when all bills are examined. Alexander has estimated that his measure, known as the "slot machine bill" because it would authorize such devices in private clubs, will realize upward of $20,000 a year, providing the governor signs the measure.

Annual license fees for each of the "amusement devices" will range from $250 to $1,000 a year, depending upon the number of coin slots in each machine. The County Commissioners are authorized to take over the administration of the act, prepare application forms, issue metal licensing plates to be attached to the machine. License years would run from May 31 to May 31. The act would take effect June 1.

Not all of the receipts, however, would go into the general fund of the county. Twenty-five per cent would go to the Frederick County Emergency hospital and 25 per cent to the Frederick County Board of Education. The remaining 50 per cent would go into the general fund.

This 'N' that: Joseph K. Ash has been reappointed trial magistrate for Emmitsburg by Governor Lane.

Prior to last year will be paid to Frederick county sweet corn growers by local canneries this summer. It was announced today. Yellow corn will again bring $21 a ton and Stowell's Evergreen will net $19 a ton. These are the highest prices paid for canneries corn in some years. It is expected that about the same acreage will be planted in sweet corn for factory use this year as last, although actual planting will not get underway generally for about a month.

Winchester hall in Frederick will no longer be of such impressive importance to Frederick county youth. It was draft board headquarters throughout the war. . . . Maryland state police are still assuring folks that the current Maryland automobile tags are still good and that the deadline for the new license plates has been indefinitely extended. . . . The state armory at Frederick is undergoing renovations. . . . Frederick county can now pay its constables $1,930 a year. And here are some of the other things the state legislature has had to say about Frederick county:

Regulated the use of dipnets in Frederick county streams. . . . Made it unlawful to discharge firearms willfully and without discrimination on highways or on waters in Frederick county.

Authorized Frederick City to borrow up to $100,000 for an airport and levy taxes to pay for bonds.

Increased license fees for bingo games in Frederick county.

Man Convicted In Pennsy Train Wreck

Butler, Pa., April 3 (AP)—Paul Vild, 31-year-old volunteer fireman of Freeport, was convicted late yesterday of malicious mischief in connection with a Pennsylvania railroad wreck near here last July 8.

Vild was found guilty by a jury of seven men and four women in the Butler county court. He was accused of throwing an iron bar into a switch near his home, causing the derailment. He was acquitted on a similar charge yesterday's conviction was deferred.

State police quoted Vild as saying Board of Censors as being expressly suitable for children.

in a signed statement he wrecked the train because of an uncontrollable urge he felt in the light of the full moon. Later, he retracted the statement, denied wrecking the train and said he made the confession "because the police were bothering me." He said he had told of the "moon madness" only to escape further questioning.
